

FIGHTING BIG INSURANCE FOR NEW MEXICANS!

Diego A. García

Personal Injury Attorney

Diego A. Garcia is a personal injury attorney in Albuquerque, New Mexico, who helps individuals and families injured because of someone else's negligence.

Fluent in English and Spanish, he is committed to serving communities that often face barriers to clear and dependable legal representation. Diego co-founded Garcia & Valbuena with his law school colleague, Rafael R. Valbuena.

Personal Injury Experience

Diego has handled car accident, truck accident, slip-and-fall, premises liability, and wrongful death cases. His experience in these areas allows him to guide clients through the legal process and help them pursue compensation based on the specific facts of each case.

Client-Centered Representation

Diego understands that the aftermath of an injury can be exhausting for both the injured person and the family. He and his team work to provide clear communication and personal attention at every stage so clients feel heard, informed, and supported.

He believes in building strong relationships with the people he represents and being available to address questions and concerns promptly. For Diego, committed representation also means providing clarity and support during difficult moments.

Community Commitment

In addition to his legal work, Diego maintains a strong commitment to the community. He and his team stay involved in the neighborhoods they serve and view that local connection as an essential part of the practice.
